

JULY 7th

On this day in...

2006: Thunderstorms dropped 0.75 inch in 15 minutes and 1.22 inch in 40 minutes at Yucaipa Ridge. Flooding occurred along some Mill Creek tributaries. Mud and rock debris covered parts of Valley of the Falls Drive.

2001: Strong thunderstorms hit the Victor and Lucerne Valleys. 0.25 inch of rain fell in five minutes at Lucerne Valley. Roads were closed due to flash flooding and mud slides. A tornado hit Twentynine Palms and Joshua Tree. Minor damage was incurred to homes and businesses in Joshua Tree.

1984: Highest minimum temperature records were set each day in San Diego for 15 consecutive days, starting on this day and ending on 7/24.

1918: It was 40° in Victorville, the lowest temperature on record for July.